FORTHCOMING BIOGRAPHY WILL CHRONICLE THE LIFE OF A DECEASED PRIEST

The late Father Philip Cascia of the Archdiocese of Hartford was described as a “man of action” for his extensive humanitarian and peace efforts which extended nationally and internationally.

“Father Cascia was a saint in his own, unique way,” said George Hughes, who chokes up when he discusses the priest and his friend. “I’m not the only one affected by this man.”

Hughes of Prospect delivered a presentation on the legacy of Father Cascia at the Mattatuck Museum in Waterbury, an event that drew some 70 attendees.

He highlighted Father Cascia’s multifaceted life, including his diplomatic efforts through sports and the founding of St. Vincent DePaul Mission in Waterbury.

Hughes, a historian and former newspaper correspondent with a passion for writing, is working on a book about Father Cascia’s life. More than 40 interviews have been conducted, he adds, and the research is still underway. “I’m making steady progress on the book,” he said of the writing project.

After a short illness, Father Cascia, 55, died on Jan. 16, 2007, when he was administrator of Our Lady of Mercy Church in Plainville. His additional assignments included serving churches in Prospect and Waterbury. He was a prefect at St. Thomas Seminary in Bloomfield.

Father Cascia developed a strong foundation of faith early in life. When he was 6 years old, he began religious training at St. Adalbert Preparatory School in Enfield. After seminary, he was ordained a priest of the Archdiocese of Hartford on May 28, 1977, at the Cathedral of St. Joseph in Hartford.

“He knew he wanted to be a priest at a young age,” Hughes added.

The priest also served as chaplain and wrestling coach at Sacred Heart High School in Waterbury. While coaching, he arranged for wrestling teams to travel to the Soviet Union.

Father Cascia was appointed by the late President Ronald Reagan to establish Intersports USA, an international program designed to foster cultural exchanges between American sports teams and those from other nations.

In 1998, the priest was instrumental in organizing a trip for Pope St. John Paul II to Cuba and led a Connecticut delegation. In 2000, Father Cascia was invited by the Vatican to celebrate the pope’s 80th birthday. That same year, he was nominated for the Nobel Peace Prize for his work through Intersports USA.

Father Cascia was founder of St. Vincent DePaul Mission in Waterbury, an organization that aims to combat the root causes of homelessness in the Greater Waterbury area. The mission has grown to provide a wide range of services including a soup kitchen, emergency homeless shelter, thrift store and mental health facilities. It also offers programs for individuals and families with disabilities.

Hughes met Father Cascia in 1979 when he moved to Prospect and joined St. Anthony Church in the town. He said he held the priest in high regard and was grateful for his numerous contributions.

Today, Hughes remains active as an extraordinary minister of Holy Communion, a Grand Knight of the Knights of Columbus, a Bible study teacher and a choir member. He has served on the parish council at St. Anthony Church and was a faith formation teacher.

During his presentation, Hughes scrolled through photos of Father Cascia on a large screen. “Look at the smile on his face,” said Hughes, pointing to one of the photos.

THE PASTOR'S CORNER

My friends, we come to the end of another Liturgical year with the celebration of Christ the King and reflect upon within our series called "Fight the good fight of Faith" with the WHAT we are fighting for, namely for us to enjoy the victory Christ has already won for us and has been crowned King of the universe. There have been many things that have taken place over the course of these past few months since I arrived, and much more to come as we look forward to the months and years ahead for our Parish.

With that being said, within the Church itself between Pope Leo XIV's first Encyclical, Dilexi Te, "I have loved you" a document on the Catholic Social Teaching on the love for the Poor, and the United States Conference of Catholic Bishops issuing a statement and video on Immigration I feel the need to address you as your Parochial Administrator and reflect upon them as a whole. As Jesus said in the Gospel of Matthew as He is being anointed in Bethany, "The poor you always have with you; but you will not always have me." This passage parallels to the commandments Jesus speaks of earlier in the Gospel, "You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, and with all your mind... You shall love your neighbor as yourself." Jesus not only reminds His disciples that the commandment of 'love of neighbor' does not necessarily apply to those living next door, or even our friends; but rather he refers more to those who are poor- the lonely and the marginalized, the weak and defenseless, the hungry and thirsty, those who are poor- financially, emotionally, spiritually, etc.. Pope Leo in his Encyclical writes about the anointing at Bethany in saying, "That woman saw in Jesus the lowly and suffering Messiah on whom she could pour out all her love." How profound and prophetic! The woman, like Jesus, pours out all her love on Him because she realizes that He is poor- having humbled himself to take on our humanity only to suffer and to die. Pope Leo continues in saying, "Love for the Lord, then, is one with love for the poor." Thus, if we can love the Lord Jesus, in whatever capacity, we can extend that same love to the poor.

In saying all this, the USCCB in their statement on Immigration reflect upon the challenge our country faces in practicing the commandment 'love of neighbor' when it comes to individuals migrating here from other countries for sanctuary. These also are the poor Pope Leo talks about, only a different kind of poverty. The statement reflects upon the saddened climate of fear and anxiety that surrounds immigration and their legal status, but also the separation of families and loved ones. The Bishops of the United States remind us that, "Catholic teaching exhorts nations to recognize the fundamental dignity of all persons, including immigrants. We bishops advocate for a meaningful reform of our nation's immigration laws and procedures. Human dignity and national security are not in conflict. Both are possible if people of good will work together." We as a Catholic people need to first and foremost pray for the poor and migrants; but also become proactive. Proactive not in the sense of becoming profilers. No, rather we must become a voice for those who have none in praying for and evangelizing about the dignity of all persons, so that, like Jesus King of the Universe, who came to our aid in his profound humility, we may do the same for all peoples. "As disciples of the Lord, we remain men and women of hope, and hope does not disappoint."
